BIO

Geoff Robb was the winner of the Brighton Fringe Live Music Award and his virtuoso acoustic guitar show 'The Music of Trees', earned him rave reviews at the 2022 Edinburgh Fringe.

Inspired by the wonder of the natural world, 'The Music of Trees' weaves together tales of our woodland folklore and history with a suite of new original compositions featuring Geoff's signature blend of classical, jazz, Celtic and Spanish influences, promising to transport you out into the woods.

A master of the acoustic guitar with an intricate, richly harmonic style, Geoff has performed to audiences across the UK and Europe, at venues ranging from Buckingham Palace and The House of Commons to Glastonbury Festival.

"Spell-binding and mesmerising in every way – don't miss the opportunity to see it." Thorington Theatre

"Very talented, makes the guitar sound like two guitars and a piano." BBC Southern Counties

"An outstanding guitarist...impeccable...innovative technique of the highest standard." The Argus
