The Wee Review

Lindy O'Hare, Co-Founder and Director of Thorington Theatre

"This show is spell-binding and mesmerising in every way.
Don't miss the opportunity to see it."

Daniel Hill, Producer, The Nest, Chichester Festival Theatre

"Geoff is a delight to work with, his show was beautiful and the audience feedback was wonderful. We were delighted by sales, finding Geoff has a dedicated following but also a wider appeal to a classical/folk audience."

SHOW DESCRIPTION

Inspired by the wonder of the natural world, 'The Music of Trees' weaves together tales of our woodland folklore and Geoff's creative process working with trees, with a suite of original compositions, written in the woodlands of Sussex.

A hand-made circular screen brings the trees to life, with film of the trees in the stories and an animated talking tree who joins Geoff in conversation

The show features beautiful music, live looping and forest sounds, with pieces of music inspired by trees including ash, elm, birch and yew, interspersed with magical storytelling.

Geoff is a master of the acoustic guitar with an intricate, richly harmonic style, blending his classical, jazz, Celtic and Spanish influences.
